Special Dispatch to The Henius Star.
ALBANY, N. Y., April B.—The New York delegation to Minneapoli will go uninstructed. The friends of the Preident are here in force. but the anti-administration influence dominates. Senator Hiscok, the representative of the administratio, came prepared to make an effort to have the delegates to Minneapolis instacted for Harrison. Collector Hendricks, ex-Senator Sioan. who tried ineffectually b have the Oswego del egates instructed, Immeration Commissioner O'Brien and a host Harrison supporters came to advocate the case of their candidate, as the price of his selection was forced to stop his efforts to secure an astructed delegation.

"If you present anyresolution instructing the delegates for Harison, you cannot go," was the ultimatum. Ie will not present any resolution, but will go b Minneapolis.

But they were obliged to succumb. There has been some question thether or not Senator his cock would constitute our of the delegates. Hiscock would constitute one of the delegates at large. Every one tought the "Big Four" would be selected. A. Schroeder and Naw Officer Willis came

THE SENATE.

The resolution offered on April 13 by Mr Jones (Ark.) for payment to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations for their interest in lands in the Indian territory (the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation) was laid before the Senate and Mr. Allison took the floor to speak against it, when Mr. Sherman remarked that, as the resolution involved some $3,000,000, he would like to see a quorum pres-ent. The roll was thereupon called, and liftyfive Senators (more than a quorum) responded.
Mr. Allison thereupon proceeded to present his objections to the resolution, which he said, would not only commit the Senate to a recommendation to the President for immediate payment of nearly $3,000,000, but would also commit the Senate to a also commit the Senate to the reasoning and statements in the printed report of the com-mittee on Indian affairs in direct antagonism to the to the argument and presentation made by the President of the United States.

The appropriation had been made in the closing hours of the last Congress, on an amendment offered to the Indian appropriation bill by Mr. Jones (Ark) without any recom-mendation on the part of the committee on Indian affairs in either house. The pending resolution involved really ten million dollars, because there lay behind it another like claim amounting, in round numbers, to about seven THE TREATY OF 1819.

His argument led him into a review of the treaty of 1819 with Spain (for the acquisition of territory) and of the various treaties with the Choctaws establishing them in the Indian territory in order to show that the Choctaws had no title to lands west of the one-hundredth meridian, and that therefore they could have no claim upon the government for such lands. Mr. Warner's Letter to the Asse HE SATS ALL ASSESSMENTS FOR THE PAST THIST TRARS BAVE BEEN VICTOURLY UNEQUAL-WHY HIS PLAN WOULD BE BETTER-MR. PHILLIPS. THE AUTHOR OF THE LETTER, AND A BILL EX-

> The committee on the assessment of proplast witness of the day. Mr. B. H. Warner, however, went on the stand again, and in anpared by him bore his name and indorsement. The letter, in substance, said:

ASSESSMENTS VICIOUSLY DEFECTIVE. "I have been familiar with every asset made in Washington city for the past thirty years, and there has never been one which years, and there has never been one which was not viciously defective, bearing severely on some, who were generally the poorer class with inexpensive improvements, and favoring the richer, with large and important buildings, and I see no reason to doubt that the present assessment will be only a repetition of all previous misadventures. The reason in my judgment is that the basis of all these assessments was radically wrong; that is, the officials were required to arrive at the actual cash value of the property, which is always problematical, instead of the assessment being based upon the annual rental value of the based upon the annual rental value of the property. This is particularly applicable to Washington, where all its real estate has been subject to a boom caused by the speculation of real estate operators.

"Real estate is worth nothing except in its spacity to produce rent, or its equivalent, a Filis Island, and saying: useful occupation by the owner, and the amount of this rent marks its value as certainly as the quantity of gold does that of a coin, and nothing else does. THE PARAMOUNT CONSIDERATION.

"The first and paramount consideration in taxation should be equality of burden. The amount of tax men are compelled to pay is not so important as that the burden should be equal, and this burden will always be unequal if assessors simply walk or drive along the public streets, look at the front walls of houses and on that determine values. Nor are these officials to be blamed, for in no case has Congress given them any more time than enough to drive around the squares of Washington and note their opinions on the external appearance of each property. Besides, how can any set of men know the values of all the lots in all the localities of Washington? The whole affair, in a word, degenerates into an extensive pend largely upon the surrounding facts; and

"But if the rental value of land be taken as the guide then there is no uncertainty as to improved real estate. For every owner and every tenant in looking after their respective interests have solved this question in every case. You may depend upon it every owner is getting as high rent as he possibly can for his property and he knows better than any body of assessors can know its true value.

General upon the face of a statute without such facts he is quite likely to make an erroneous decision, as experience has frequently shown."

The letter then gives in some detail the various facts alleged concerning the expenditure candidate the same of the shown. esors can know its true value.

vacant lots, and their value is not one-thou-sandth of the improved lots, the assessors would have simply to determine what would be their rental value if improved by houses similar to those in the vicinity, and this rent value of the vacant land would fix its assessment."

The draft of a bill following out the views in he letter was also submitted by Mr. Warner.

MR. PHILLIPS EXAMINED. Samuel L. Phillips was the author of the letter and draft of a bill providing for a new method of assessment, taking the rental received from property as a criterion, subhis suggestion. Mr. Phillips read his letter and commented upon the various phases of his plan. He remarked that in certain sections speculation had placed a fictitious value upon property and that many of the inequalities in the assessment resulted from this. In showing why he considered the present system adverse to the poor man and favorable to the rich he suggested that the assessors could easily assess the full value of a house worth about $2,000, whereas it would be almost impossible for them to place a correct value on houses worth in the neighborhood of present license year, or that an age limit be inserted in the order, placing the limit of age at fourteen years, and holding the boys and not the proprietors responsible for youthful lying. The pool-room owners who had taken out licenses had, he claimed, a vested right and it would be unconstitutional to deprive them of that right. standard was made by which to judge the rental value of property occupied by owners. It would be easier to fix the rent of property than the value. He thought that the assessment on the rent should never exceed 14 per cent, as any higher rate would drive capital away from the city. The present assessment, he thought, would greatly increase the revenue of the District, but would not wipe out any of the inequalities. Mr. Johnson tried to get Mr. Phillips to give his opinion of the single tax idea, but Mr. Phillips said that he had not considered the question and that it was too broad for him to give a definite answer. In answer to Mr. Warner's question the witness testified that in his belief values on F street were greatly inflated, and that in many F street were greatly inflated, and that in many other sections of the city from one cause or another artificial values had been established. He quoted, as an example, the prices at which 14th street properly was held some five years

Mr. Douglass, on learning the Senator's views, promised to call an immediate meeting of the board to give the permit some reconsideration. Before doing this, however, the Commissioner intimated that the permit was not revokable. was not revokable.

Fifteen minutes later the Senator offered a resolution in the Senate and secured an immediate agreement thereto. The resolution requires the District Commissioners "to report to the Senate forthwith what action, if any, they have taken to make building regulations to carry into effect the joint resolution to regulate licenses to proprietors in the city of Washington, &c., "also whether the Commissioners have issued any permits for the erection of theaters or public halls to be constructed at any height above the level of the street."

"The granting of such a permit as the one which has been issued for Metzerott's Hall is outrageous," said Senator McMillan to a Stan reporter this afternoon. "It is a direct breach of an agreement between the committee and the District Commissioners. We talked the whole matter of building permits over and the Commissioners agreed to adopt the regulations which are law in Boston. The safety of the public demanded such action and it was only when the Commissioners assented to the terms that I promised to refrain from bringing the matter up in the Senate.

"The case with which some men see motes and the difficulty they have in observing beams is wonderful. A few days ago Senator Hoar came to me and told me that the authorities of his church had been notified that it was came to me and told me that the authorities of his church had been notified that it was illegal to place chairs in the aisles. That was very proper action on the part of the Commissioners, but it is comparatively a minor affair. It satisfied them, I suppose, that they were doing their duty and they at once turned around and granted a permit to build a public hall—in which 1,200 people are to be accommodated—more than twenty feet above the sidewalk. It is an outrageous piece of business, and I am going to
